Hoar, of Massachusetts: In the Senate of the United States, January 9, 1900 The Senate having under consideration the joint resolution (S. R.53) defining the policy of the United States relative to the Philippine Islands, as follows: Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled. That the Philippine Islands are territory belonging to the United States: that it is the intention of the United States to retain them as such and to establish and maintain such governmental control throughout the archipelago as the situation may demand - Mr. Hoar said: Mr. President: I have listened, delighted, as have, I suppose, all the members of the Senate, to the eloquence of my honorable friend from Indiana [Mr. Beveridge]. I am glad to welcome to the public service his enthusiasm, his patriotism, his silver speech, and the earnestness and the courage with which he has devoted himself to a discharge of his duty to the Republic as he conceives it. Yet, Mr. President, as I heard his eloquent description of wealth and glory and commerce and trade, I listened in vain for those words which the American people have been wont to take upon their lips in every solemn crisis of their history. I heard much calculated to excite the imagination of the youth seeking wealth or the youth charmed by the dream of empire. But the words Right, Justice, Duty. Freedom were absent, my friend must permit me to say, from that eloquent speech. I could think as this brave young Republic of ours listened to what he had to...
