Excerpt: . . . of the State of Kentuclv. which required a carrier to deliver its ears to a connecting carrier. was held invalid because it did not provide adequate protection for their return or compensation for their use. It was hence held that it amounted to a taking of property without due process of law. But the Court was careful to say. that in view of the Opinion of the Court. H90 woll-known and necessary practice of connecting roads, we are far from saying that a valid law could not be passed to prevent the cost and loss of time entailed by needless transshipment or breaking of bulk, in case of an unreasonable refusal by a carrier to interchange cars with another for through traffic. The point of the decision was that compensation should be provided, and by the law. As it is expressed in the opinion, ---the law itself must save the parties rights, and not leave them to the discretion of the Courts. This as a condition was explained. for it was said: We do not mean, however, that the silence of the (State) constitution might not be remedied by an Act of the Legislature. or a regulation by a duly authorized subordinate body, if such legislation should be held consistent with the State constitution by the State Court. These conditions exist in the case at bar. There is another part of the Louisville, etc. , R. R. v. Stock Yards Case which is more...
