ECW Press. Paperback. Condition: New. 120 pages. Patrick Woodcock has spent the past seven years engaging with and being shaped by the people, politics, and landscapes of the Kurdish north of Iraq, Fort Good Hope in the Northwest Territories, and Azerbaijan. His powerful new collection offers a poetry that simultaneously explores hope and horror while documenting the transformative processes of coping. You cant bury them all follows the narratives we construct to survive the tragic failures of our humanity to their very end: everything thats buried by snow, dirt, and ash, just like everything thats buried by politics, homophobia, sexism, racism, religion, and history is resurrected, demanding to be heard and addressed. In Woodcocks poetry, how we deal with what resurfaces is the key. What do those who suffer really mean to those who have abandoned them to small, conscience-soothing charitable donations or the occasional tweet How can the poet, or anyone else, sleep at night after YouTube documents homosexual Kurds being thrown off building tops; after a childs body is abandoned in an Azeri cemetery; or after the elders of an Aboriginal community are left helpless against businessmen who only want to exploit them Still, You cant bury them all demonstrates that the world is not just the horrific place the media often portrays. In each of the worlds he touches, Woodcock discovers a spirit and strength to celebrate. This item ships from multiple locations. Your book may arrive from Roseburg,OR, La Vergne,TN. Paperback.
